REFUGEE RESPONSE

Refugees in Markazi village received Kerosene for household cooking. During the reporting period, UNHCR in collaboration with ONARS distributed Kerosene to refugee households in Markazi village. A total number of 470 household composed of 1,536 refugees was supported, each person received 4 liters that will be used for household cooking for a month.

UNHCR held a meeting with refugee leaders of Markazi village to discuss support after flooding. Following heavy rains that caused flooding in Markazi refugee village forcing many families to relocate from their shelters, UNHCR representative Mr. Philip Creppy visited the Markazi refugee village and held a meeting with refugee community leaders to offer a message of sympathy and solidarity and discuss further support needed and ways to deliver it. UNHCR is looking to provide tents to rebuild shelters for families who lost theirs in the flooding.
